HIRAM SMITH'S
Ophthalmic Panacea!

Is without doubt the most wonderful eye healer that has yet been discovered.

It cures the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness.

E. B. MOORE,	NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE,	G. R. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY,	JOHN M. HOLLOWAY,
W. D. PORTER,	ROBT RAMSEY,

And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

525 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

This brings the line to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lien as security, and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services. These bonds are issued as each twenty mile section is finished, and after it has been examined by the United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first class road, thoroughly supplied with depots, repair shops, stations and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon. E. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders and deliver the bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent an actual and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

EARNINGS OF THE COMPANY.

At present, the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this is already much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue, if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and as there will be no competition it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government officers and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's are offered for the present at 95 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, IN U. S. CURRENCY, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than U. S. Stocks. They pay

SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD,

or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment. Subscriptions will be received in Portland by

The Jumel Will Case

[From the New York Tribune]

There are some philosophers who contend that no condition of human affairs can be conceived of which has not already been experienced. To such the mutable history of the celebrated Jumel estate affords a favorite illustration. The latest phase of this mystical equation is the unexpected resurrection of a fond brother of the venerable testatrix, who, in the person of four fair-haired children, claims the sole right to the vast estate of $1,000,000, which now lies at the upper end of our island waiting for an owner. To intelligently understand the virtue of their claim it will be necessary to review briefly the tangled skein of incidents which has been drawn by so many conflicting parties with the aid of sundry lawyers, churchmen and disappointed heirs into its present Gordian knot. About the year 1770, an infant was born in the cabin of a French frigate carrying troops to the West Indies from La Brest, who (her mother dying at her birth) was placed by the Captain in the custody of a Mrs. Thompson, of Newport, (R. I.). At the susceptible age of 17 she formed a secret attachment for a British officer, and finished it by elopement and marriage, and taking up her residence in this city speedily rose, by the brilliancy of her talents and personal beauty, to the first circles. Here she formed the acquaintance of Stephen Jumel, a French wine merchant, who, in the early period of the present century—she having become a widow—offered her his hand and fortune, which was accepted, and they retired to Paris, where diving deep into the excesses and follies of that extravagant city, their fortune soon began to wane and they returned to this city for its reconstruction. Success followed their united efforts, and at his death she was left in possession of an ample estate. Late in life she married Aaron Burr, from whom she soon separated, and, retiring to Washington Heights, passed on to a wretched old age filled with passionate outbreaks of anger and torment of by schemes, real and imaginary, to obtain possession of her wealth. Two years before her death, which occurred in 1865, she made a will distributing her vast property among various charitable institutions, after the payment of some inconsiderable annuities to a few relatives. This will was drawn by a clergyman, who, with another clerical gentleman, was appointed executor of the testament. Upon being offered for probate, however, it was met with opposition from two sources. First, a certain Nelson Chase, who married a niece and adopted child of the aged testatrix, and second, by the children of a brother William Jones. The first contestant soon secured an assignment to him of the latter's claims for the round sum of $80,000, conditional upon the breaking of the will, and, employing eminent counsel, soon succeeded in it, upon the ground of insanity, thus becoming the undisputed master of the field.

He thereupon shared his good fortune with a blooming young lady of the metropolis, and, exulting in his success, took passage for the old world, the lands of Manhattan Island at last having found an owner. But, "alas, for the fond delusion of hope," right in the heyday of his honeymoon he receives a telegram informing him of the unexpected appearance of another batch of claimants, from whose unassuming statement it appears that another brother, John, whose bones everybody had supposed were daily growing whiter at the bottom of the ocean, had insisted on prolonging his existence beyond the ordinary probabilities, and "stamping his image" upon the very features of four lads and lasses, who, with a most becoming humility, are now reaching out their hands toward these same golden acres from which they desire Chase and lady to remove at their earliest convenience, and in order to facilitate their departure they last week appeared in our Courts, suing for a writ of ejectment that they may speedily possess their domain. In support of their demands, they not only allege the illegitimacy of Chase's former wife, but also dispose in a most summary manner of the claim he purchased from the children of William Jones by undertaking to demonstrate their illegitimacy also. Chase therefore finds himself compelled to wade through the uncertain probabilities of another long litigation before he can rest firmly in his newly acquired possessions, and in the mean time opportunity is afforded an indefinite number of parties to trump up a line of ancestors who shall connect themselves with the former lady so recently gone to rest, and dispute again, and yet again, the title to these ownerless lands.

Penny Readings in England.—We have all over England an institution which I have never heard of in America. It is called "Penny Readings." They are given in school rooms, vestry rooms, and other inexpensively parochial places, usually by volunteers, and the readings of short serious and comic pieces and recitations are often interspersed with music. The admission to the great public is one penny, but a few chairs, at sixpence each, are reserved for aristocratic visitors. In our elegant suburb of Kensington which has at once the most fashionable and the roughest population in West London, ranging from royal and ducal palaces to acres of dark hovels, in which no decent man would keep his dogs, we have penny readings, under the patronage of the Prince and Princess of Teck at the palace, and the venerable Archdeacon. They are held in a large school house which appears to have been a brewery. Folding doors separate the penny from the sixpenny audience, and they enter at different doors, and while both divisions can see the reader and singers, they can see but very little of each other. On Monday night both sides were filled for Lord William Lenox volunteered to give a reading from the Beggars' Opera, which he had got up with great care, training the singers in the selected illustrative music and having had two previous rehearsals in his own drawing room. And it was really nice. Lord William is a fine looking man of sixty, perhaps a little bald and gray, but got up in the best style of the best dressed of nations. He gave some account of Gay, and sketched lightly the story and satire of the "Beggars' Opera," introducing some of the best songs, which were very fairly sung by two ladies and four or five gentlemen. Then a vote of thanks to Lord William in nice little speeches by nice little clergymen, then a nice little reply—thanks gratified—very happy—good institutions and so on. Then God Save the Queen, in compliment to Lord William just elected a superintendent of special constables, when everybody stood up and every man took off his hat except one little Chinaman or Malay, who kept his on, but being a Pagan and outside barbarian, was pityingly excused. If he had had an Irish brogue or an American accent or aspect, I am afraid he would not have been let off so easily. Thus we had a Lord, the "Beggars' Opera," and "God Save the Queen," all for a penny, and as the English poor say of their food, "very filling at the price"—especially Lord William Lennox.

Globular Lightning.—There are many instances on record of globes of fire descending from the clouds to the earth and rising from the latter toward the skies. On the 18th of August, 1777, a globe of fire nearly three feet in diameter was seen, at 9 P. M., to strike the lightning conductor of the Conservatory at Padua; a similar phenomenon occurred in 1732, and again on the 18th of August, at Villers la Garenne, and [illegible] short the number of cases of this kind recorded is about one hundred and fifty. Globular lightning seems to be particularly liable to attraction by metals. Thus it will seek the railings of balconies, or else water and gas pipes, etc. It has no peculiar tint of its own, but will appear of any color, as the case may be. At Coethen, in the Duchy of Anhalt, it appeared green. M. Colin, Vice President of the Geological Society of Paris, saw a ball of lightning descend slowly from the sky along the bark of a poplar tree; as soon as it touched the earth it bounded up again, and disappeared without exploding. On the 10th of September, 1845, a ball of lightning entered the kitchen of a house in the village of Salagnac, in the valley of the Correze. This ball rolled across the room without doing any harm to two women and a young man who were there, but on getting into an adjoining [illegible] it exploded and killed a pig which happened to be shut up there. [illegible] such balls is far from being very rapid; they have even been observed [illegible] balls to pause in their course, but they are not the less destructive [illegible] At [illegible] Stralsund [illegible] a number of balls were exploded in the [illegible] like shells. The volume from which we have been quoting is full of valuable information concerning meteorological phenomena.—Galignani.

Hon. Anson Burlingame's Mission

Great excitement was occasioned among the foreign residents of China by the announcement of the appointment of U. S. Minister Burlingame as Minister Plenipotentiary to the European Powers from China. The British organs manifest a great deal of irritated supercilousness at the selection of an American, and talk as though the China Government had lowered its dignity a great deal. The North China News of December 3d says:

On the evening of Saturday, the 23d ultimo, the community of Tientsin were startled by the astounding news just received from Peking that Hon. Anson Burlingame, the United States Minister to the Court of Peking, had been accredited Ambassador to the Courts of Europe and Washington by the Government of His Imperial Majesty, the Emperor of China, and that his Excellency takes with him as attaches, Mr. Brown of Her Britannic Majesty's Legation, and M. Deschamps of the Chinese customs service. It is supposed that other gentlemen will be attached to the mission, but on the dispatch of the letter from Peking their names were not known to the public. His Excellency was to leave Peking on the 25th ultimo for this place, and he is, of course, momentarily expected here. What does this step of the Chinese Government mean? As yet this community are completely in the dark as to the special objects—for special we take them to be—on which the mission goes to Europe and America. It seems so strange for the representative of a foreign government at Peking to be suddenly transformed into a Chinese Ambassador that we are lost in amazement at the change.

Mr. Burlingame's salary is $4000 per year, and this affords the Mail an opportunity to say:

"Neither in his capacity as U. S. Minister, nor in his newly fledged appointment as Chinese Envoy, has Mr. Burlingame had the honor of an interview with the Son of Heaven, and his rank, anomalous and equivocal at the best, will not be magnified by any undue pretensions to the position of an Ambassador. It would be impossible for the most ardent hater of American governmental institutions to wish for a more practical commentary upon Yankee diplomacy and diplomatists than is afforded by Mr. Burlingame's acceptance of the appointment under discussion. Let any one imagine the appointment of Chinese Envoy offered to the Minister of France, of Russia, Prussia, Great Britain, or even of Spain. He would be a bold Chinaman would venture to make such a proposition to the representative of any of the European powers. Our American friends will of course say that it is a mere question of 'dollars' with all, but Europeans may safely reply that the 'almighty dollar' will not induce an European diplomatist to sell himself and his services to the Court to which he has not been accredited."

The Tsunle Yamen have addressed dispatches to the foreign Ministers with reference to the status of the Chinese officials who accompanied Mr. Burlingame. The document is to the effect that the Chinese gentlemen are novitiates in the art of foreign diplomacy, and that one object in their appointment is to fit them to represent China at the Courts of the Treaty Powers at a future date. The document expresses a strong wish on the part of the Chinese to become better understood by Foreign Powers, and evinces a desire to enter upon a course of progress.

The Men who Saved the Party

[From a San Francisco Paper.]

Five thousand Democrats in this city believe and openly assert that they alone saved the party, five thousand Democrats are ready to denounce the leaders and boldly to assert that they will never again vote the ticket unless they or their friends are rewarded by appointments of honor or profit. Is it a Constable for a Justice's Court, there are fifty open applicants, besides a hundred who talk to their friends of their claims in the matter. Every one of the 150 is the man who saved the party in his ward, is the man who, by his fidelity, strategy or courage, accomplished something out of which all the late Democratic successes resulted. Some two thousand people want places on the police, and one thousand of them declare that it was by their individual exertions at the polls, or by their personal influence on the members of the Convention, that Mr. McCoppin received the nomination of his party and won the election. Another thousand follow Judge Provines in the same way; they are each of them the man who, though he never knew it, took him by the hand when he first came to the country, and upheld him by their personal influence when no one else interested themselves about him. How many men have already registered, by themselves or their friends, with the United States Senator elect their claims for office, on the ground of being the men who saved the party in their ward, precinct, county or State, we do not know, but we should guess, in round numbers, a few thousand.

Strangely enough, some of the men who claim to have saved the Democratic party have voted for and worked on the other side for years. A few who have been the noisiest and frothiest at Union meetings, and most abusive of their Democratic opponents, are now fawning over Democrats who have anything to give, and taking them aside to whisper in their ear: "My dear fellow, though I never said anything about it, I always, in secret, favored your election and the victory of the Democrats." Even such a question as "How did you show your favor? By calling us copperheads and rebels?" does not disconcert them. Their ready answer is, "I forced issues upon the Republicans which they could not carry, sir. Issues which I felt must destroy them, sir. Issues which I hoped they would accept, because I desired your success." It is easy to get rid of such fellows, however pertinacious they may be, but the leaders cannot get rid of the thousands whose only idea of voting a ticket is that they are to be rewarded for their consistency some day by a gift from the party they have supported. Hence, more porters at the City Hall, more jailors at the City Prison, more policemen, more deputies in the street department, more deputies, clerks, draftsmen etc., in the Sheriff's, County Clerk's and Assessor's offices, more Supervisors, more members of the Board of Health, more pilots, more Fire Commissions, more of every kind, class, rank and quality of officials in the city.

The Democratic leaders, who are advocating these changes, know there is no necessity for them. They know that the crowd of fellows who pull them by the coat tail every time they venture on the street, and who dodge them at the doors of their offices and residence from early morn to midnight, are enough to fill the offices in the gift of the party if they were all vacant and multiplied by five. They know that all the declarations about saving the party are vain boasts, gross exaggerations or wilful falsehoods, and despise the men who utter them. They would, in most cases, rather do nothing for them for what is past, but they feel obliged against their consciences do to something for them for the sake of the future. They feel compelled, because there is not one of them who is not as prepared to pledge himself never to vote the ticket again as he is to affirm that but for him Democracy would be dead.

A King's Treasures.—The Vienna papers publish some details respecting the treasures which King George of Hanover has just taken to that city. The plate comprises a valuable service in gold and another in silver. The cabinet of relics is composed of church utensils and of objects brought in 1772 by Duke Henry the Lion from the Holy Land, etc. The collection of coins numbers nearly 22,000. The pictures, library, etc., remain, at least for the present, in Hanover.

The Suez Canal.—It was calculated by the engineers of the Isthmus of Suez Canal Company that at the close of November, 1867, 32,562,631 cubic feet of earth, etc., had been raised out of a total of 74,112,130 cubic meters to be extracted, leaving 41,540,490 cubic meters still to be dealt with. The number of workmen employed at the end of November was 8,310, of whom 5,980 were engaged in the section which comprises the last 25 miles of the canal.

Notre Dame.—The choir of this grand old cathedral has been restored. The French journals [illegible] a denial of the [illegible] which is made by [illegible] They say that the cathedral belongs to the people, and all the cost of the restoration was at their expense, and that the demand of ten sous to see it is a swindle.

Candidate Makers.—The honey-fuglers in both parties are busy in putting forward California candidates for the Vice Presidency. On the Union side the following have been named:

Senator Cole, Senator Corbett and Williams of Oregon, ex-Gov. Low, Frederick Billings, the two Senators from Nevada, Tb. [illegible] Campbell, John Curry, J. W. Dwinelle. Of course others will be added as soon as their precise merits can be ascertained. Then we have on the Democratic side, Gov. Haight, Senator Casserly, John Bigler, State Senator Shaw, Judges Field, Hager and Sprague, with the certainty that the list on this side might be prolonged indefinitely.

At it Again

The following appears in the [illegible]

Derish of the Herald, having been very thoroughly used up by the OREGONIAN returns to his drivel about the taxation of United States bonds One of two things must be true, either the editor of the Herald is himself a blockhead, or else he presumes on the ignorance of his readors The former is probably the case Very few persons arrive at his age, with so little common sense"

In making his circuit around the narrow range of topics to which he is restricted by his ignorance in dolence and dulness, the editor of the Herald has got back to talking on the subject which he made himself so supremely ridiculous by attempting to discuss some months ago He is now again engaged in writing a series of articles on the subject of taxing bonds The value of the new series may be fairly estimated by the pitiful ignorance he exhibited when discussing (?) the same topic a short time ago He now informs his readers that,—

"The Courts have decided that bonds issued by the General Government cannot be taxed by the States, without the consent of Congress That Congress has the power to subject such securities to taxation, we believe has not been questioned by any competent authority"

It is conceded here that decisions have been rendered settling the matter that Government bonds cannot be taxed by the States This is a point gained since a few months ago, when the writer was wholly ignorant of the fact which he now concedes. But he has now started a new doctrine, viz That the Courts have decided that the bonds cannot be taxed "without the consent of Congress," and that "it rests with the majority in Congress to say whether the Government securities, representing one fifth of the aggregate wealth of the country shall be taxed or exempted." The Courts have said nothing about "the consent of Congress" to such taxation, and no decision of the kind can be produced The editor should cite his authorities, since, unfortunately for him, there is an unbelieving multitude with whom his dictum will not pass as good law.

We showed in former articles on the subject that the exemption of bonds from State taxation does not rest on any act of Congress, but on the Constitution itself. The act declaring the bonds exempt from taxation was merely an affirmation of the well settled principles of constitutional law The object in passing it was not to introduce a new rule, for prior to the passage of the act the Courts had repeatedly held that the States could not tax Government securities;—but the object was to give notice to all who might desire to invest, in the bonds of the terms on which they could be taken. Even the act of Congress made no sort of difference, in a legal point of view, in the taxable character of the bonds. In decisions rendered by the Supreme Court after the passage of the act declaring the bonds exempt from State taxation, that high tribunal did not refer to the law of Congress at all, but placed the exemption of the bonds from taxation wholly on constitutional grounds, reaffirming the principles which had been declared by the Court thirty years before the law was enacted.

But it is said that Congress may subject Government securities to taxation, or may authorize the States to tax them. Here are two propositions which call for separate examination Of the latter, we merely remark that it has been settled by an overwhelming array of judicial decisions that the States have no power to tax Government securities, and that any assumption or exercise of such power by the States would be clearly violative of the Constitution, the partisans of "strict construction" may explain if they can where Congress gets the right to authorize the States to do this thing It devolves on these sticklers for the letter of the Constitution to point out the source whence Congress obtains power to authorize the States to do that which the Constitution forbids them to do When they explain this, it will be time to consider their argument on this head—if they have any The Herald lays great stress on the fact that Boutwell of Massachusetts recently introduced a resolution in Congress to [illegible] new bonds to be liable to State and local taxation, but it dishonestly suppresses the fact that the resolution was rejected The proposition, however, contemplated the payment of a higher rate of interest by the Government to compensate for this taxation, so that nothing whatever would be gained by the General Government, by the States or by the people, by its adoption

To the proposition to tax the bonds directly by act of Congress, the same remark will apply If Congress taxes Government securities one per cent or two per cent, or at any other rate, their market value will be diminished in just that proportion. Or, to put it differently, if Congress asks for a new loan for the purpose of funding the debt, with the understanding that the securities shall be subject to a certain rate of taxation, the interest to be paid will be increased by just the amount of the tax which is laid on the bonds. What, then, will be the advantage? What is received in taxes will necessarily be paid out as interest This is too obvious to require further remark. It is not true, as alleged by the Herald, that Senator Sherman's bill proposes to issue taxable bonds In the first draft of his bill a provision was inserted for a one per cent tax on new issues of bonds, to be paid into the State Treasuries, but he afterwards rejected it So much for Boutwell and Sherman

It is hazarding nothing to say that no law will ever be passed for the taxing of Government securities. It is settled that the States cannot tax them, and Congress will not tax them because there is no advantage in doing so It profits a person nothing to take his money out of one pocket and put into another How much then would it profit the people to tax the bonds, when they would be compelled to pay just so much the more interest for the privilege of doing it?

The Herald's remarks on this subject on the present occasion are made in reply to a correspondent who seeks information As that paper has announced that the Courts have decided that Government bonds cannot be taxed by the States without the consent of Congress it [illegible] its correspondent in what case [illegible] Court has decided the States may tax them with the consent of Congress As it assumes the office of a public instructor it should be able to cite the law to substantiate the point it is trying to make

Eldridge offered a protest signed by forty five members against the injustice of the majority of the House in not giving full opportunity for debate and passing the articles through hastily The protest was received and the House proceeded to vote on the articles of impeachment The seventh article was stricken out as almost identical with the fifth The remainder were voted on and adopted one by one, by a strict party vote in most cases The House then elected managers to conduct the impeachment before the Senate as agreed upon by the House, and then adjourned

The Senate has passed the rule governing the trial By eleven P M Sherman were spent in discussing the rule which limits debates on preliminary modes and questions to one person on each side Amendment to increase the [illegible] was voted down

In the course of his speech Dixon Democrat, said it should be remembered that this will be the greatest trial in history whereupon Sherman and others of the impeachers seated near shouted Not at all not at all No such a big trial as you think Dixon attempted to amend the twenty first rule so as to allow the defense to close the case, but was not successful Sherman raised the question whether the Chief Justice as President of the Court would not have a vote in the verdict but by general consent the discussion of that question was left for the court when in session The rules were finally adopted, and the Senate adjourned

WASHINGTON March 3—In the House a number of bills were offered and referred Among them was one to aid in the construction of an international Pacific railroad from Cisco to the Rio Grande

Horton introduced a bill to regulate the public debt Referred to Committee of Ways and Means

Wilson of Iowa offered a resolution that the necessary obligations of the United States shall be kept within the narrowest limits and requirements of the Government, and declaring its obligations, and that it is inexpedient at present to enlarge such obligations by extending aid to the Union Pacific Railroad, or any other company by going beyond the terms of existing laws in regard to subsidies Passed by 34 majority

The Judiciary Committee was instructed to enquire whether Congress has power under the Constitution to regulate the rates to be arranged for freight by railroads engaged in commerce between the different States

A resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to report in relation to the political status of Texas was introduced During the rest of the morning hour expired and the resolution went over until Monday

The consideration of Eldridge's motion to suspend the rules so that he might have read or placed on the journal the names of the Democratic members, was rejected by 42 majority, the speaker voting among the ayes

A message from the Senate was received informing the House that the Senate was ready to receive the managers appointed by the House to carry to the Senate the articles of impeachment against the President

The message was entered on the journal, and the House went into Committee of the Whole in the post office appropriation bill The estimated deficits for the coming year are $800 000 After considerable discussion the committee rose and the bill was reported to the House and passed Schenck's bill for the relief of certain exporters of distilled spirits reported on Friday, passed

Butler, from the managers of the impeachment reported the article offered by him yesterday He remarked that there was only one dissenting vote on it in the Committee Eldridge made the point of order that the managers had no right to report articles of impeachment as the House had appointed a Committee for that purpose The speaker overruled the point of order on the ground that any member had the right as the question of highest privilege to present articles of impeachment After debate the previous question was moved and the article was adopted by forty six majority The only Republicans voting on the negative were Ashley of Nevada, Coburn, Griswold, Laflin Mallory, Marvin Pomeroy Smith Wilson of Iowa Wilson of Ohio Wiscell and Woodbury

Birmingham offered an additional article saying it had received the unanimous vote of the managers and moved the previous question The article refers to the speech by the President of the 18th of August 1866 in which he declared in substance that the 39th Congress was not a Congress authorized by the Constitution but on the contrary it was a Congress of only a part of the United States thereby denying and intending to deny that the legislation of said Congress was binding on him except in so far as he saw fit to approve the same After some debate the article was adopted by sixty nine majority Adjourned

Impeachment

The Times' special says there seems to be a determination among the impeachers in the Senate to press the trial of the President to a very speedy close This is manifest in the manner in which they curtailed the debate on the rules for government of the Court and the pressure which they give to all matters pertaining to impeachment An idea of the possible length of the trial has not yet been expressed in the Senate except by Williams of Oregon who said in debate to day that it could not be completed in two or three days but would probably take more than a week Several have previously expressed the opinion that it would not take two weeks Boutwell says the testimony can all be put in in a single day

On the occasion of the Democratic meeting at Oro Fino Hall, a delegation from East Portland entered, bearing the flag of the Union Whereat three cheers were given Who, during the rebellion ever saw a Democrat carrying the stars and stripes? Certainly such a spectacle was not seen in Oregon They didn't want flags raised here and in many localities attempted to prevent and threatened to resist it They can be very brave and patriotic now, when the danger is all over The flag of the East Portland Democratic Club is probably one that they buried in 1861

DECLINE OF SPECULATION IN ENGLAND —The decline of speculation in enterprises which require legislative sanction in England is shown by the fact that in the present Parliament there are 218 private bills set down for examination by both houses, while in 1866—a short two years since—the corresponding total was 633 Of the bills prosecuted in 1866 no less than 409 referred to railways, and of those Scotland furnished 90 The pending Scotch railway bills are only seven in number Adjourned.

NO LACK OF AMUSEMENTS.—Just at present, nobody in [illegible] is in absolute danger of dying for want of places of [illegible]. Once or twice every week Prof Cardinell has a soiree at his Dancing Academy—Thursday being [illegible] night. Every Wednesday night, Prof. [illegible] have soirees at his hall over Vandell's [illegible]. Every Tuesday evening, the Terpsichorean [illegible] gives a soiree at the hall over the Franklin Book-store. Every Thursday evening, the Washington Guard will have a soiree at Oro Fino Hall, beginning with to-[illegible] week we are to have a grand instrumental and vocal concert, by all the leading musicians of the city. Beside these, there are minstrel performances every [illegible], Sundays excepted, at the Olympic Theater, [illegible] can buy a hearty laugh for two or four [illegible] seekers who cannot find in all these, [illegible] them, are hard indeed to suit.

[illegible] MAPLE SUGAR.—Dr. Poppleton has given us a [illegible] of some maple sugar, made by his brother E. [illegible], at Scappoose, Columbia county, during the [illegible]. He tapped six small trees and obtained of [illegible] water," about two gallons per day or at that rate. [illegible] the run of about a day and a half he boiled down [illegible] of sugar and about three pints of heavy [illegible] syrup. The sugar is certainly as handsome and pure as any we ever saw in the famed orchards of the Eastern States. Mr. Poppleton, after making this experiment is satisfied that he can make sugar from the Oregon maple of as good quality as any in the world, and that the syrup of the tree will yield such a per cent as to be remunerative. There are doubtless many places along the Columbia river and the Willamette too, for that [illegible] where maples are numerous enough to render sugar making profitable.

[illegible] AND FRUITLESS.—A week or ten days ago, an [illegible] or a sort of free fight occurred at a butcher shop up town, out of which has since grown not less than four [illegible]—three State cases and one for violation of a city ordinance. Each of the cases has been [illegible] tried and the defendants have in each case [illegible]. The result of the fight which somebody [illegible] began, and in which somebody certainly participated, may be summed up thus: Item, one broken [illegible], one broken head; item, divers and sundry [illegible] scratches, and injuries too numerous to mention; item, four trials for criminal offences; item, three [illegible]; item, four acquittals; item, big bill of expenses; [illegible] total, everybody hit or hurt, and nobody guilty. Such are the uncertainties of the law.

"OUR PURCHASE."—Alaska must be a gay place. A Sitka correspondent of the Vancouver Register, says "the sun rises about 10 o clock and sets about 3. Five hours of wintry, drizzling daylight and then nineteen hours of wintry, drizzling night." Cheerful place. The correspondent says: "Campbell might have been thinking of [illegible] he wrote

"'Tis distance lends enchantment to the view—'

and he might have added—

'And robes the iceberg in a heavenlier hue.'"

From the 8th of October to the 20th of December last, the people of Sitka did not have a word of news from any American port.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The County Commissioners were in session yesterday. The greater part of the day was occupied in the examination of the accounts of Supervisor Watson.

In the matter of two roads leading out of Springville, westward, the reports of viewers were filed and read the first time in open court.

Chas. Hart was sent to the county hospital, being sick and having no means of support.

PETITION AND REMONSTRANCE.—The petition circulated recently by Mr. A. A. Skinner for the improvement of the road from East Portland to Vancouver will be presented to the County Commissioners to-day. We presume the remonstrance will also be presented.

PRODUCE ARRIVALS.—The steamer Senator made a second trip to this city from Oregon City, Tuesday evening, bringing passengers from Salem and the following freight: 72 boxes apples, 22 packages grape vines, 10 boxes eggs, 8 qr sacks flour, 59 gunnies bacon, 1 coop fowls, 6 boxes [illegible], 1 keg [illegible]. Arrived yesterday per steamer Alert, 78 bags wheat, 383 boxes apples, 452 sacks feed, 100 sacks middlings, 27 boxes eggs and lard, 17 gunnies bacon, and [illegible] lard.

MARCH WEATHER.—For the last two or three days, we have had very characteristic March weather—a few little sunshine streaks, a great deal of bluster, rain, hail and other similar varieties. It would be rather difficult to fall enamored of any of the styles, except perhaps, the little, sickly and stray sunbeams, and they appear to be so altogether too bashful for this world that the sentiment of pity gets the better of love in spite of everything.

THE NEXT STEAMER.—Mr. Weidler informs us that the steamship John L. Stephens will leave San Francisco this morning for this port. She is a side wheel ship of about 2,000 tons register and a carrying capacity of about 1,500 tons. Should the water be deep enough on Swan Island bar, she will carry away a whacking load of produce. There is enough now in the city to load her about five or six times.

FROM ST HELENS.—A friend who returned Tuesday evening from a brief visit to St. Helens says that building is going on at that place to considerable extent, and that there are already several houses which would be creditable to more pretentious portions of the State. A project is on foot there to start a newspaper, but with what prospects, we are unable to state.

RAILROAD PEOPLE.—Mr. Burns and some of the other railroad people have been on a flying visit to Salem, and returned yesterday. We are not informed as to what turn matters connected with the east side Central are about to take, but it is understood the engineers will start the survey as soon as the weather becomes practicable for field work.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—The following are the proceedings of Wednesday, 4th inst.

John Edwards vs. James Field, action on a promissory note and for beef cattle, a transaction of June, 1854; jury empanneled; all the day occupied in the examination of witnesses. Wait for plaintiff; W. W. Chapman for defendant.

OLYMPIC THEATER.—Since Joe. Delevan assumed control of this place of amusement, he has succeeded in putting the troupe on in such manner as to attract larger audiences nightly than have similar amusements in this city for several years. The performances really have much merit, and Joe. always has something new.

WASHINGTON GUARD'S SOIREE.—The first soiree of a series to be given by the Washington Guard, will take place at Oro Fino Hall, this evening. Those who have attended the annual balls given by this company will need no second invitation to attend their soirees.

THE OCCIDENT.—The bark Occident is at Astoria awaiting favorable weather to cross the bar. Besides the freight taken from this city, she has taken a deck load of lumber from West's mills.

CONCERT PROGRAMME.—The programme for Everest's concert is published, and we invite attention to it as embracing a more than ordinarily interesting variety of performances.

FROM THE DALLES.—The ice blockade below the Dalles is reported broken up. The steamer Idaho reached the Dalles wharf on Tuesday.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO—BOISE CITY, I. T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital $100,000. B. Change in Business!

WIBERG & STROWBRIDGE have disposed of their entire retail stock of Boots & Shoes, and will hereafter devote their whole attention to the WHOLESALE BOOT & SHOE BUSINESS. We have on hand 200 cases of Boots and Shoes which we offer very low, in order to make room for our spring stock direct from the East, which will arrive about the middle of March. Our arrangements for direct importations are now complete, one of our firm having located his residence near Boston, for the express purpose of buying and forwarding goods for our house in Portland. We will keep none but first class goods and we think we can do as well by dealers, as if they purchased their goods in San Francisco.

THE MUTUAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, OF NEW YORK.

Incorporated	1842.
CASH ASSETS	$23,000,000 00
ANNUAL INCOME OVER	6,000,000 00
CASH DIVIDEND Feb. 1, 1867	2,124,000 75

THE MUTUAL DOES A CASH BUSINESS ONLY AND HAS NO NOTES!

What a Note Company says:

"We recommend the CASH plan as the best mode of Insurance. None will deny this after a few years' experience of the different plans."—The Charter Oak Life Insurance Co. (a Note Company.)

EXPERIENCE has taught business men that CREDITS must be paid for.

IN CASH COMPANIES—The first payment is the largest, every successive year reduces the premium or increases the policy at the option of the insured. Past records of the Mutual prove that in 15 years their payments cease, but DIVIDENDS continue for life.

IN NOTE COMPANIES—The first payment is the smallest—interest on Notes swallow Dividends and increase the future payments.

OBSERVE—Notes must be paid for by higher rates and increased insurance.

DIVIDENDS.—The Mutual declares Dividends the first and every successive year from the date of a policy holders' insurance. N. B.—The public should ascertain from other Insurance companies if Dividends are declared annually from the start—or annually 4 YEARS AFTER insurance.

RATES in The Mutual are lower than in any other Company doing business on the Pacific Coast—and are considerably lower than in any Note Company.

EVERY ADVANTAGE is offered by The Mutual—(excepting notes)—that other Insurance Companies can offer.

THE MUTUAL
IS THE OLDEST AND LARGEST LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Medical Examiners:
R. GLISAN Esq., M. D. and R. B. WILSON, Esq., M. D.

The States of "New York and Massachusetts" provide Commissioners for the public protection, to receive and examine ALL RETURNS of business transacted BY ALL Insurance Companies. Copies of these Reports and Charts are to be seen at our office, and the public are cordially invited to inspect them for guidance and instruction.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,

Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

The Late Gale at Labrador—Thrilling Incidents—A Heroic Boy

[From the Newfoundland Public Ledger.]

There are true heroes in the humblest walks of life, as well as in high places of the field. The short and simple annals of the poor, if written would disclose some of the noblest instances of self sacrifice, and brave endurance for the sake of others, that have ever glorified our humanity and lifted our souls to higher levels. A very touching illustration of this has just been related to me by one who has recently returned from Labrador. I shall endeavor to tell the tale briefly and simply.

The awful hurricane that raged along the coast of Labrador on the 9th of October 1867 has no parallel in the memory of the oldest inhabitant. The sea rose in many places thirty or forty feet higher than it had ever been known to rise before. Cliffs that had stood the buffeting of the waves without perceptible change, for half a century, gave way before the furious rush of the watery battalions. Huge bowlders that the united efforts of twenty four strong men could not move were hurled from their beds and carried far up the beach by the mighty swing of ocean. Blinding snow drifts, showers of hail, sleet and rain accompanied the tempest. Alas! for the poor fishermen along the iron bound coast whose frail barques were not sufficiently sheltered from the storm. In a few hours thirty vessels were driven ashore, or swallowed in the boiling surges. Some fifteen hundred beings were ship wrecked, and, more than thirty met a watery grave or perished of cold and hungry on the inhospitable coast. The produce of months of hard toil was swept away.

A vessel na[illegible] l Renfrew, Delaney master, a large number of men, women, and children on board, tried hard to ride out the hurricane, but at length she dragged her anchors and was driven ashore. With great difficulty all on board were safely landed. Drenched with rain, blinded by the snow drifts, shivering in the cutting blasts, they found themselves without food or shelter, the nearest huts being five miles distant. Night closed in as the last of them were being dragged ashore. Their only hope lay in endeavoring to reach the huts; and through the darkness and storm those who were able staggered on along the pathless wilderness in search of shelter. Who can picture the horrors of that awful night of suffering. When the morning sun shone out, nineteen women and children lay dead along the shore. One group of children were found clasped in each other's arms, sunk in mud to the knees, frozen, all dead! During the darkness and the confusion of landing, four young children were separated from their parents who sought for them in vain and at length gave them up for lost. A boy of fourteen years of age encountered these poor little ones; and on learning their deplorable plight, he resolved to do what he could to save their lives. Making the shivering children lie down, locked in each other's arms, he set to work resolutely collecting moss and piling it on them, layer after layer, till at length the piercing cold was partially excluded. Then having fortunately discovered a fragment of a sail, he spread it over all, rolling stones on the entrenchments to keep it in its place. By hard toil he collected more moss, and increased the rude covering, until the poor little children ceased to cry with the bitter cold, and sank into a slumber. Through all the dreary hours of that awful night, this heroic boy remained by them [illegible], guarded them from the blast [illegible] to them, when they awoke, words of [illegible] and hope. He might have [illegible] in the huts, but, he would not [illegible] his charge. At length day-light [illegible], and then he turned his tottering [illegible] towards the huts, to look for aid. [illegible] half way he met the parents of the [illegible] children coming out to search for the [illegible]. He told [illegible] where they were to [illegible]; and on lifting the covering of moss [illegible] throbbed joyfully to find their [illegible] alive and refreshed with sleep. But [illegible] on their way [illegible], they found the noble [illegible] who had [illegible] their lives, at the expense of his own, lying dead! Nature was exhausted [illegible] the fatigue and exposure of the night, and [illegible] to reach the friendly shelter, he [illegible] expired.

Our [illegible] have thrilled over the tale of the gallant [illegible], who, when parched with the death [illegible], gave the cup of water to the wounded [illegible], saying, "thy need is greater than mine." [illegible] has glorified the names of those who have sacrificed their lives on the altar of patriotism, or who risked and lost life in alleviating the woes, or saving the lives of others. With moistened eyes we have read of the British soldier who thrust the dispatch with which he was entrusted into his wound, lest it should fall into the hands of the enemy, and then laid down to die. Our pulses have throbbed over the story of the boy who

> "Stood on the burning deck
> Whence all but he had fled."

And though the flames were curling round him, refused to move till his father, who had placed him at the post of duty should give him the order to retire. But I think the deed of this [illegible] young hero of Newfoundland, deserves a place among the brightest acts of [illegible]. Picture him in that night of storm, on the savage shore of Labrador, when the [illegible] fishermen were driven to [illegible], though their fellow-creatures were [illegible], as they cried in vain for help, with the howl of the tempest, and the roll of the angry surges in his ears, struggling alone to shelter and save those poor helpless children—feeling his own strength ebbing away, and yet, at the call of humanity, refusing to listen to the promptings of self-preservation, giving up his young life on behalf of others. Consider, too, that those he saved had no claims of blood of kindred on him. No prospect of praise or reward sustained him through those hours of darkness. No eye but Him to whom the darkness and the light are both alike" marked his heroism. It was a deed of pure unselfish love. I have not been able to ascertain the name of this gallant boy; but when, in after years, the tale of the awful hurricane of 1867 on the Labrador, shall be told around the Winter hearths of the fishermen, shall not this heroic deed be told also "for a memorial" of him, and shall it not awaken young hearts to similar deeds of self-sacrifice?

The survivors dug a common grave for the dead; and in it, with bitter, heart-wrung tears husbands laid the uncoffined bodies of their wives and children, and friend buried friend. No coffin or shroud for any form, no words of Christian consolation breathed over their dust. The young hero whose tale I have told sleeps with the others in this lonely grave. But another form was laid there—that of a mother who was found dead, with a living infant clinging to her breast, and endeavoring to draw nourishment from her bosom, wrung tears from men who seldom wept. With a love stronger than death, the poor mother had stripped herself of her clothing, wrapped it around her babe, and then clasping it to her bosom so as to shelter it from the blast, she sunk into the death stupor. In the morning the unconscious babe looked up smiling into the faces of the survivors, from its shelter on the dead mother's bosom. O mighty power of love, that throbs often most strongly in the bosom of the humblest—those whom we in our pride and scorn pass by with contempt—prompting to deeds of self-sacrifice that show what depths of tenderness slumber unsuspected in human hearts, and proving to what hights humanity may rise. How poor does many a deed that has been sung by poet appear, when contrasted with the acts of this nameless fisher-boy, and this poor, loving mother. Dead boy! Dead mother! How your deeds of love brighten this scene of horrors, carrying our thoughts up to that Infinite Love who gave Himself for our poor lost humanity, rebuking our cold selfishness, and saying to all go and do something to help and comfort your suffering brothers! O dark mystery of pain, sorrow and death! In presence of such examples of love breathed into the soul of man from the Divine source of Love we can better believe, notwithstanding the dark chain of sorrow that encircles our race that the universe is rocked in the arms of Everlasting Love, and that

> "Every cloud that spreads above,
> And veileth love, itself is love."

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves or rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained all should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat disease that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER. Consultation FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

DR. J. C. YOUNG, Medical and Surgical INSTITUTE.

⁂ CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE.

⁂ CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.

⁂ IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.
